HYSTERICAL DENIALS

Liquor Men Emphatic in Protesting That They Have Endorsed Nobody.

EXCELSIOR

Boy Painfully and Mysteriously Hurt and Does Not Know How It Was Done.

PLANT

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
PETHRSBURG, VA., May 7.-Pennsylvania capitalists are negotiating for the Battersea farm as a site for a large excelsior manufacturing plant, and it is likely that the deal will be consummated without any delay. The representatives of the company recently looked over the city and inspected the territory within the radius of about thirty miles of Petersburg, in order to satisfy themselves as to the abundance of crude material, as to the abundance of crude material, which can be had at reasonable prices. They were also pleased with the facilities of Petersburg. As a shipping point. The plant is to cost about $30,000.

1.1QUOR MEN PROTEST.

A rumer gained currency to the effect that the liquor dealers of Petersburg had secretly endorsed certain candidates to be voted for at the coming primary. Mr. Heineman, the president of the association, was very emphatic to-day in denying that there is any truth in such a rumor. He said the association in order to avoid any misconstruction of its motives has not held a meeting for more than three months, and will not hold a meeting until after the election; that the association refrain from taking any part whatever in the coming primary, and does not care what candidates are elected. The question of candidates has never been discussed or any action of any character taken concerning any candidates for office in the coming primary. The Elks will give a big minstrel show in this city Monday night. Only a few rehearsals could be had, but there is very evidence that the local cast will be well trained. They will give a street parade Monday.

MYSTERIOUSLY HURT.

Jesse H. Parson, the nine-year-old son of Mr. T. F. Parson, was found painfully hurt on Sycamore Street, near his home, last night. He had been out of the house but a few minutes, when he returned in a flazed condition. All fear of serious results have disappeared, but there is nothing to indicate how he was hurt, and though the boy has regained consciousness, he is unable to throw any light on the matter.

Professor R. E. Gains, of Riehmond College, will deliver an address before the Baptist School Association at the Mataoco Baptist Church to-morrow afternoon.

Machinery is being received for the new ice factory to replace the plant of the Petersburg Crystal Ice Company, recently burned in this city. The company expects to begin the manufacture of ice within the next month.

CANDIDATES.

UNQUALIFIED VOTERS.

Veterans Fearful That They May be Disfranchised.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
CHRISTIANSBURG. VA., May 7.—
There was a considerable rush at the treasurer's office to-day to pay poll taxes by the registered voters. There are several hundred registered in the county who failed to pay the tax, and will therefore lose their votes. The county clerk issued seventy-seven certificates to registered voters, who have not been assessed with capitation tax, and this enabled them to pay the treasurer.

It has just been discovered that the registration books for a number of the precincts in the county are in a bad state, owing to the registrars failing to designate who were exempt from the payment of the poll tax as a prerequisite to voting. This is the case in two entire magisterial districts, and while the registrars are willing to make the corrections is not considered as ocial to The Times-Dispatch.)

their terms have expired, and many old soldiers are uneasy.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
CHRESTERFIELD, VA., May 7.—David Mahoney, a white man of Swansboro, who was released from Jail here as few months ago, was recommitted yesterday, charged with waylaying and assaulting a coored man with a club.
Mr. Reuban Winfree, deputy treasurer of Chesterfield county, is quite ill at his home, near the courthouse, with Celscare resembling meningitis. Two physiclass have been in attendance at his bedside this week, and his condition is still critical.

RADFORD, VA., May 7.—Extra west-bound freight, No. 833, was wrecked at 4.26 o'cleck this morning on the bridge over Conley's Run, between Radford and East Radford. No one was hurt, but ten ears were demolished. The wreck was caused by the breaking of a drawhead in the front of the train, which applied the emergency brake, and caused the rear cars to crash into the front and hurt them down the embankment.

SCORED A SUCCESS.

"Under the Laurels" Makes a Great Hit.

The pretty drama, "Under the Laurels" (Dennison's Mar play resented at Corcoran Hall by amateur talent of Coreoran 'Hall by amateur talent of Church Hill Friday night, scored a decided success in every particular.

The play was given under the auspices of the Ladies' Auxiliary to the hospital of the Methodist Institute, and was supervised by Mrs. W. M. Bickers, president of the auxiliary.

The hall was filled to overflowing with a splendid and appreciative nudience. The stage was set in a handsome and decidedly artistle manner. The piece is difficult to stage as well as to act, but the cast and management were quite equal to the occasion in every respect. There was not a hitch anywhere, and the members of the cast sustained their several parts in a highly creditable manner.

There was not a hitch anywhere, and the members of the cast sustained their several parts in a highly creditable manner.

Miss Ivey Robins—tail, stately and handsome—made a splendid Mrs. Millford, the widow who seeks to bar the adopted daughter from a legacy in Millford's will; Miss Julia Bickers, pretty and petite, was a typical Rose, the adopted daughter; Miss Ida Lee Allen, as Sooky Button, head female servant, was simply ideal; Miss Blanche Bickers, as Polly Donler, the maid, was cute and perfect in her role; Mr. J. M. Binford, as Bob Button, the overseer and spy for Brantford, was excellent; Mr. R. W. Carter, as Colewood, the supplanted overseer, and Rose's lover, won great favor by his superb acting; Mr. W. L. Balles, as Zeke, the pompous colored butler, was great, and kept the house in a roar of laughter all the while he was on the stage; Mr. C. W. Smith, as Ike Hopper, farm hand and here in behalf of Rose, won great applause for his meritorious acting, and Mr. W. M. Bickers, as the villain, succeeded well in keeping the audience incensed at Brantford's mean duplicity, while Mr. Donald Hancock was very natural as Sheriff Blake.

The two scenes in the third act depict, respectively, the meeting of the "regulators" in an old log cabin, and the Cliffvillo jail, in which Colewood is confined, and from which he escapes after an encounter with Button. These scenes were very realistic, the thunder storm representation being most clear, and with the lights all lowered and the scenery deftly arranged, these productions were theiling, as was the denouement, when Brantford comes to grief.

Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Perkins rendered instrumental duets between the acts; Miss Rosa Brauer played the soft music in the climacteric and sentimental scenes, and Mr. W. L. Bailes sang a couple of catchy songs—all of which greatly added to the charm and success of the play.

A number of the oldest and most conservative members of labor organizations vere members of the convention, and through their wise counselling many helpful suggestions were taken up and discussed, and finally incorporated in laws, of the Federation. While the Federation lost members this year, caused by the disbandment of the Street Car Men's Union, the loss will no doubt be over-come by the concerted efforts of the come by the concerted efforts of the members of the Organization Committee to bring in unions not now affiliated.
